

MORE ABOUT THE QUANTUM NUTRITIONIST

The dietary and health advice that I offer can be for a wide range of health conditions (after all, many have similar issues at a causal level); and can be via one of several consultations that I offer. All of these can be undertaken in person or by 'remote' means such as WhatsApp/ Zoom/ Skype/ Email.

I also now partially work by DONATION ONLY through the new "Ask the TQN" service. Have you got any questions about your health but don't want a full consultation for one reason or another? Well this could be for you.

Concessions may also be available on consultations if you would like to submit a review afterwards – please ask for further details.

So, I would like to share with you about how to heal from the inside out as well as through more traditional 'external' approaches such as good nutrition, homeopathy, and natural remedies.

Speaking of natural remedies... I have my own range of powerful & bespoke homeopathic formulas available for you, your family, or even your pet!

And, did you know... I have had the privilege to be able to work with the most amazing machine - the ASYRA Pro - for over 15 years now. This incredibly useful BIORESONANCE device can help to show up areas of your body eg digestion, immune system, liver, adrenals, hormones... to support and with what precise natural supplements. Every GP surgery should have an ASYRA Pro, and more and more people are learning about this technology and how it can offer an extremely valid – and effective – means of alternative health testing.
